Massachusetts Technology Executive Named Toastmasters International President

Stefano S. McGhee becomes leader of global educational organization

ENGLEWOOD, Colo., Sept. 8, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- Stefano S. McGhee, DTM, of Weymouth, Massachusetts, has been elected to the Board of Directors of Toastmasters International, the world's leading organization devoted to communication and leadership skills development. McGhee assumed the one-year term at the organization's 2026 International Convention, held in Vancouver, Canada, Aug. 19-22.

McGhee, most recently worked as the Senior Director of Technology Operations for Harvard Business Publishing. He led a team of cloud engineers, architects, integration engineers, and help desk technicians in ensuring the availability and stability of the organization's most critical applications, including Harvard Business Review.

McGhee earned a master's degree in military operational arts and sciences from the United States Air Force's higher education organization. During his time in school, McGhee earned the International Security Studies Research Award for his work that was of interest to national security. He is a member of the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association, where he shares the wonder of flying with children and young adults. He is also a motorcycle enthusiast and leader at a local yacht club.

A Toastmaster since 2005, McGhee's home club is Network Voice Toastmasters in Weymouth. He has held several high-profile leadership positions within Toastmasters and has attained the Distinguished Toastmaster designation—the highest level of educational achievement in the organization.

"To those willing to put the time in, Toastmasters gives the critical skills to be a better version of yourself," he says. "From there, you can confidently take on more challenges at work and life and become the sought-after leader needed in today's world."

As an officer of the Toastmasters International Board of Directors, McGhee is a "working ambassador" for the organization. He works with the Board to develop, support, and modify the policies and procedures that guide Toastmasters International in fulfilling its mission.

About Toastmasters International
